Dear Little Sis,
It's been so little great having you as a little sister. But it hasn't really been come to an end. Though we may be thousand miles apart we'll always be together. You were always so understanding with my absent mindedness and so great at listening to my gripes. I just hope you can get a great little sister like mine and I'm positive you'll make an even greater big sis as you were little sis.
You're future will be fine. Luck can't be worked to your advantage and time is infinite. So remember always to remember me, as I you. Think of me I'll in fondness & if you don't write to me I'll ring your neck.

Love,
Berne

Introduction

Gaze into our looking-glass at a universe unlike any other . . . See our world of peace, knowledge and understanding.

Here you may reflect upon the reality of such things as frankness, love and respect. Here each face mirrors the intellect of a growing person with a goal in life. Here we ready ourselves for the world with clear hearts and shimmering gleams of hope which cast a beacon's light out past the embracing frame of our world.

We first crossed this threshold as children searching for a vantage point from which we could observe the outside universe. We entered this world filled with fervent hopes and distant dreams. We leave it filled with images of fond remembrances and with the capacity to make our dreams come true.

Come into our sphere and behold the harmony and serenity which have enriched us for the past years —

Step into our looking-glass and enter the World of Mary Help of Christians Academy . . .

Dear Katie,
It's been 3
years that I've known you and I admit you and I fun knowing that it's really a great kid

Dear Nate,
It's been a lot of fun this year and I hope next year will be the same. Have a really great summer

Gleaming beacons leading us to maturity...

Hierarchy

We look up to our most cherished Pontiff, Pope Paul VI, with gratitude and love. His faithful reflection of Christ is always there for us to see and follow in our voyage toward spiritual maturity.

The yearly coming of Reverend Bishop Lawrence B. Casey is always awaited with great anticipation. His paternal solicitude is felt throughout our cozy haven.

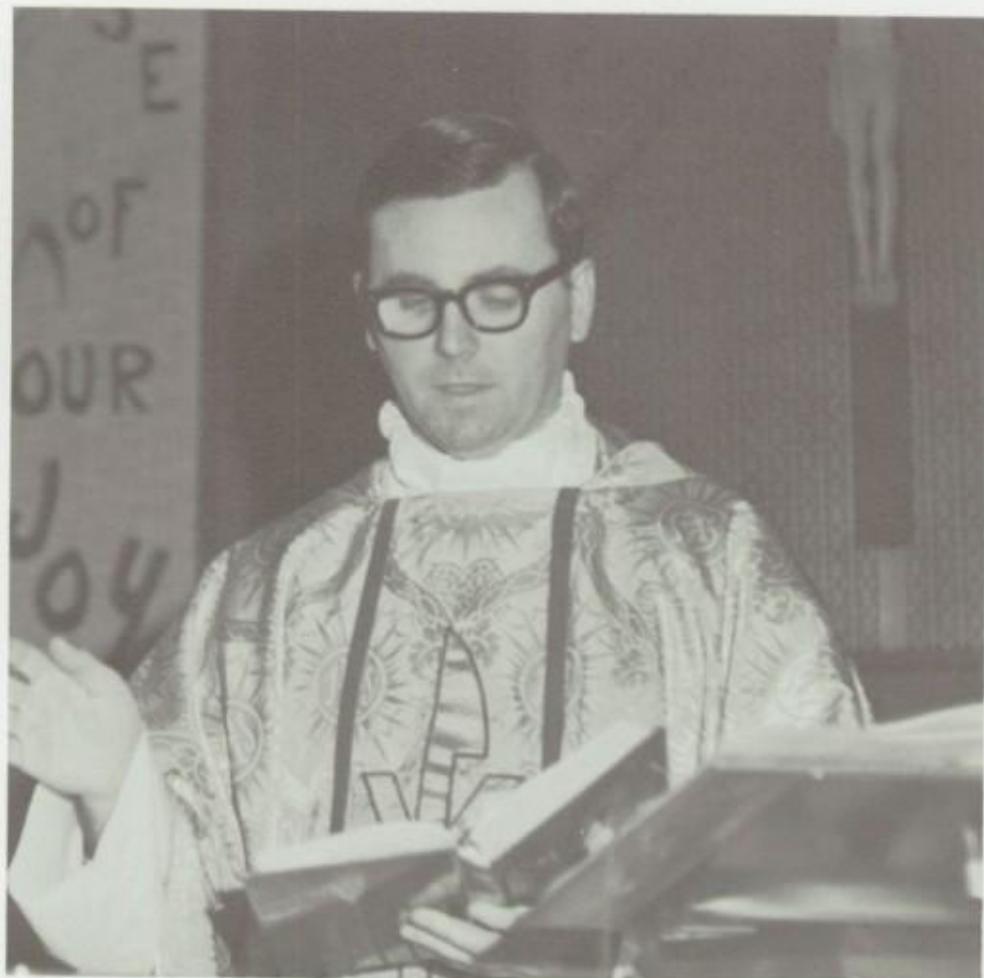

Our warmest thanks are extended to Father Azzoni and Father Motta, who so willingly offer Mass for us each day. Their constant devotion is always there to restore the picture when we lose sight of the image of Christ.

His Holiness Pope Paul VI

Most Reverend Bishop Lawrence Casey

Reverend Father Carroll, Superintendent of Schools

Reverend Father Azzoni, S. D. B., Chaplain

Reverend Father Motta, S. D. B., Confessor

Administration

Reverend Mother Ida, Provincial

Reverend Sister Josephine Carini, Supervisor

The running of an efficient school can only be accomplished by an administration which is devoted to its students. With the unfailing support of our faculty we have been able to cross many thresholds and form lasting reflections of fond memories. Their words of encouragement proved to be a great incentive for us in reaching our goal.

Though not always among us, we feel Mother Provincial's ever-present concern for our general well-being. With her reassurance our burdens are easier to bear. Sr. Superior Mary, although confronted with numerous tasks, is always willing to take the time to advise and guide the students.

Sr. Josephine Carini, as our supervisor, gives her "all" in assisting the faculty in providing us with the best education possible.

A principal who bestows upon us her undivided personal interest is none other than our own Sr. Julia. Her guidance throughout the years has taught us the real meaning of responsibility.

Being bursar requires patience and perfection. This is one of Sr. Mildred's strong points, all of which are displayed expertly.

Our faculty is a vibrant and determined force within the four walls of our school.

Through them, we have awakened our silent and dormant potential for knowledge. With them, we have traveled the many avenues of life, and have acquired the security and understanding needed to reach our goals.

Their first and foremost interest is to give us the best education possible, an education where we as students could discover our full capacity. They take the time and trouble to make themselves available to us. It is this personal interest, which each of us has found in our Sisters, which has made our years at Mary Help so rich in love, laughter and Salesian joy!

Many are the words we could say, but none could let them know how much we thank them, and hope that we shall continue their beginnings.

Looking back on days gone by...

A pleasant addition to our student body, the Class of '76, has won the friendship and respect of all. Their eagerness to accomplish all tasks presented to them is evident. Although they are newcomers to the school, the Freshmen have rapidly acquired the spirit and vigor which characterizes most students of Mary Help of Christians Academy. They are easily recognized by their readiness to help others, and the admirable willingness with which they confront their problems. They are only beginning the journey which for us is rapidly drawing to an end.

Kathy Ryan, Margaret Stringer, Denise Shabet, Charlaine Yomant, and Athena Soteriou seem to be taking a break from the hectic Freshmen schedule.

Caridad Fernandez, Jennifer Gaguski, and Eileen Henry listen to Patty Dunn's explanation of one of the symbols in our mural.

Stepping over the threshold...

"Hitching a ride from school, eh Freshmen?" Caroline Agostinelli, Nancy Bradley, Mary Diodato, Kathy Breen, and Laura Blewitt.

Can these girls get into class without their books? Georgina Madsen, Marie Perez, Teresa Marshall, Agnes McCaffrey, Karen McManamey and Ludzie Pierre-Louis.

Arlene Infante conveys her fear of falling to Ann Marie Losco, but Blanca Gonzalez, Eileen Hoffman and Michele Hubbard are unaware of the danger.

Patty Payne, Kathleen Wood, Caridad Perez and Eileen Henry are two years early for May Crowning practice.

Mary Ward, Jane Toomey, Mary Valentine, Jacqueline Vanderhook, Mary Vincelli and Maureen Wend admire the view of our campus.

Bertha Todd, Kathleen Wood, Cheryl McVeigh, Pat Cubillos and Bonnie Forbes are wondering when the Freshmen will have a shelf full of trophies too.

To wisdom and wonder...

Debbie Taylor leads Kathy Sciacca, Lia Romano, Ada Suriel and Meg Scanlon up the down staircase.

After lunch, Cheryl McVeigh, Eileen Hoffman, Joyce Torres, Marie Perez and Arlene Infante take a few minutes to relax.

about things old...

Ann Messina, Teresa Miller, Patty Payne, Maritza Ortiz, and Grace Martinez prove that work can be fun.

"You want us to swim — in there?" Hilda Vera, Mary Jane D'Ambrosio, Sheryl Butler and Cheryl Radice.

Active thoughts compensate for inactivity. Elsa Vazquez, Grace Martinez, Laura Blewitt, Nancy Bradley, and Jennifer Gaguski.

Leona Mania, Debra Leogrande, Kathy Huffard, Mabel Martinez and Elizabeth Lopez give their varied opinions on a local "work of art".

These Freshmen have obviously taken two different sides on an issue. Carmen Calderon, Marie Gaita, Mary Vincelli, and Mary Valentine.

Class of '75

Our world would be incomplete without the cheerful faces of our little sister class. Ever-ready to lend a helping hand, the Sophomores have brightened our last two years at Mary Help.

Their exuberance rings throughout the halls and corridors reflecting their warmth and laughter; their friendliness and generosity struck us from the moment they crossed the threshold of the Academy. With a spirit that never dies they pursue and meet challenges that dawn with each day.

As the time for us to leave grows nearer, we feel more and more certain that we shall linger in their thoughts with the same enduring affection as they shall remain in ours.

Debbie Passano gives Andrea Suriano her math book and throws in a few words of wisdom.

Their cheerfulness rings throughout the halls...

Lynn Spencer, Elizabeth Henry, Michele Lauretta and Cathy Carbone wave to their friends on the field.

Dear Katie,

This year has been a great one & you helped make it this way. I'm glad we're friends. Love, Elizabeth

"Maybe if we're lucky enough we will never be missed." Lisa Alois, Kathleen Payne, Dawn Alexander, Lisa Tesauro, Cecilia Lyness and Vicki Suriel.

Katya De Pozo, Cathy Saputo, Irene Torres, and Hortensia Rojas discuss the outcome of the recent elections.

Vera Marjanovic, Kathy Larkin, Gloria Conforti, Nancy Wade and Teresa Urena ascend the "ladder of success."

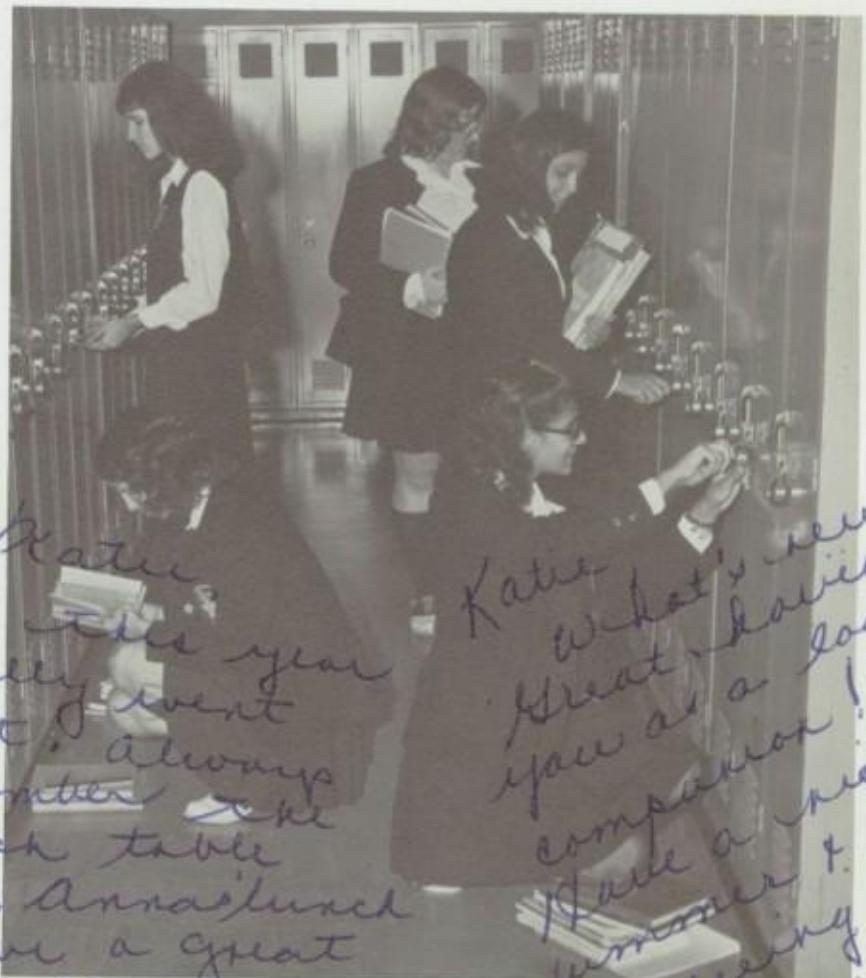

Patricia Restaino and Lori Karakashian have the will to get the balance beam out of the G.A.A. closet; now all they need is the way.

Barbara Moore, Laura Van Fleet and Aileen Sinamark enjoy listening to a friendly lecture.

Theresa Kropp, Barbara Verry, Carletta Twitty, Mary Squatrito and Carolyn Shepperson have claimed these as their "Sophomore steps."

Dear Hale,

Dear Katie,
Wow, it's really been a great year for all of us, in "Fiddler" I got to know you better and I learned what a really nice kid you really are!

Barbara Sadiwnyk, Sonia Cabrera, Donna Fowlkes and Maruja Vargas believe that many hands make work more enjoyable.

Dear Katie,
I really enjoyed working with you. As I have said many times, you can keep your diseased chickens. course, you comrade, freedom and party in drink invisible liquor. Love

Diane Jaouen, Karen Dunn, Marilyn Crane, and Monia Saouaf enjoy a breath of fresh air in their own quiet corner.

Sara Goow and Barbara Moore "open the doors" for Laura Van Fleet.

Class of '74

Close behind us in our sojourn toward success, the Juniors have exhibited a dynamic enthusiasm in everything from school work to extra-curricular activities. They are a vital part of our little world and are proving themselves quite competent as future leaders. The Juniors have eagerly led their little-sister class through the maze of complicated schedules and have helped them to become real S-ettes. Their exuberant spirit has brightened our own outlook on many things and we shall always hold these years spent together as another stepping-stone in our growth toward maturity. Indeed, we have no fear in passing the torch of leadership to them!

As the torch is passed...

Roseann Heathcote, Monica Del Pozo and Janet Massood are wondering if anyone is home.

Dilia Suriel is impressed by Robin Van Buren's creativity.

"Peek-a-boo, I see you!" Susan Fodi, Emilia Collado, and Rosemarie Nardella.

"Choo-choo Charlie was an engineer . . ." Terri Vander Meulen, Diane Bradley, and Elizabeth Rice.

The Juniors have a knack for getting things "organized." Carmen Santana, Sandra Waddell, Jacqueline Posthuma, Barbara Jaouen and Maureen Dillon.

Ecology-minded Cathy Muir, Sandra Ward and Colette Samsel help clean up the campus.

Proving their athletic ability are Eddie Pierre-Louis, Diana Saillant, Sandra Ward, Laurie Radice and Mabel Portillo.

the Juniors assume their roles ...

Sandra Waddell, Jackie Posthuma, Maureen Dillon, and Ellen Blewitt watch their reflections on the water.

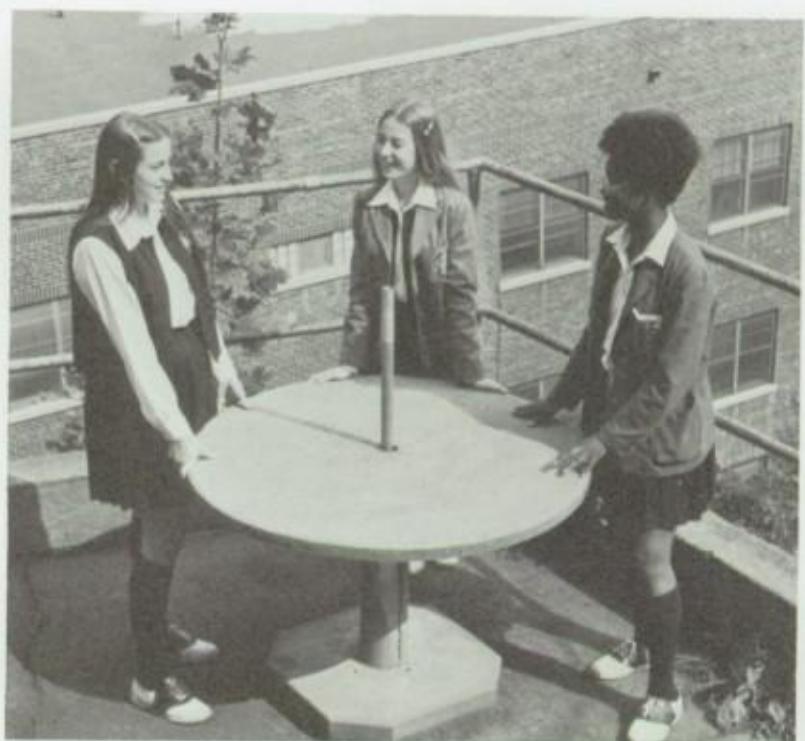

Renee Lippi, Roberta Skerritt, Stacy Nekervis, Mercy Perez and Maria Callejas have their own private sit-in.

Sharon Straight, Robin Van Buren, Cathy Funcheon and Diane Bradley take a few minutes to visit the cemetery.

Justine Plokhooy, Terri Vander Meulen, Susan De Marco and Donna Lyness enjoy the beauty of nature at Mary Help.

Jo Anne Nicolosi, Diane Dlugokencki and Eddie Pierre-Louis laugh away the hours.

as leaders in the service of others.

Maria Callejas offers a lily as Josephine Urena, Joanne Holloman and Mercy Perez watch solemnly.

Diane Dlugokencki, Cathy Muir and Jo Anne Nicolosi have a tense handball game.

Some energetic Juniors have a snowball fight in honor of the first snowfall. Susan Bagli, Cathy Funcheon, Camille Acquaviva, Maurya Scanlon and Amelia Bonassini.

Donna Vanderhook, Agnes Verhulst, Philomena Zisa and Debbie Mininni take the opportunity to approach the sacrament of Penance.

Knowledge and wisdom flowing over the aqueduct of subjects...

Religion

Our spiritual needs are continually fulfilled through the constant efforts and patience of Sr. Theresa and Sr. Eileen.

Sr. Theresa finds simple answers to our puzzling questions through her clever illustrations. Our childish ways are set aside as we find a deeper meaning in life and establish a closer relationship with God. Though our constant arguments and debates over trivial matters would try the patience of most people, Sr. Theresa calmly says, "It's a good thing I love you."

Sr. Eileen introduces the Freshmen to the many facets of human personality and starts them on their way to a better understanding of Christian values. She carefully explains the importance of daily mass and personal participation.

Camille Acquaviva, Donna Lyness, Maurya Scanlon and Susan Bagli take advantage of our new Religion Research Center.

Kim Keraitis and Martha Brito explain their Religion project.

Dear Katie,

How what a year! It's been a great year working and growing with you. Keep up your cheerful ways and strive for what is good with the help of our blessed mother.

Be good & have a nice summer. I'll see you in Glee Club next 38 year. Love,

Sue

P.S. If you buy a ticket, I'll take your diseased chickens!

A time of prayers and love with the Lady of the Rosary.

The opportunity for daily Communion is highly valued by the students at the Academy.

Athena Soteriou, Joyce Torres, Margherita Teran and Hilda Vera prepare for an Offertory procession.

Groping through darkness we search for truth.

Fr. Azzoni offers daily Mass with much reverence.

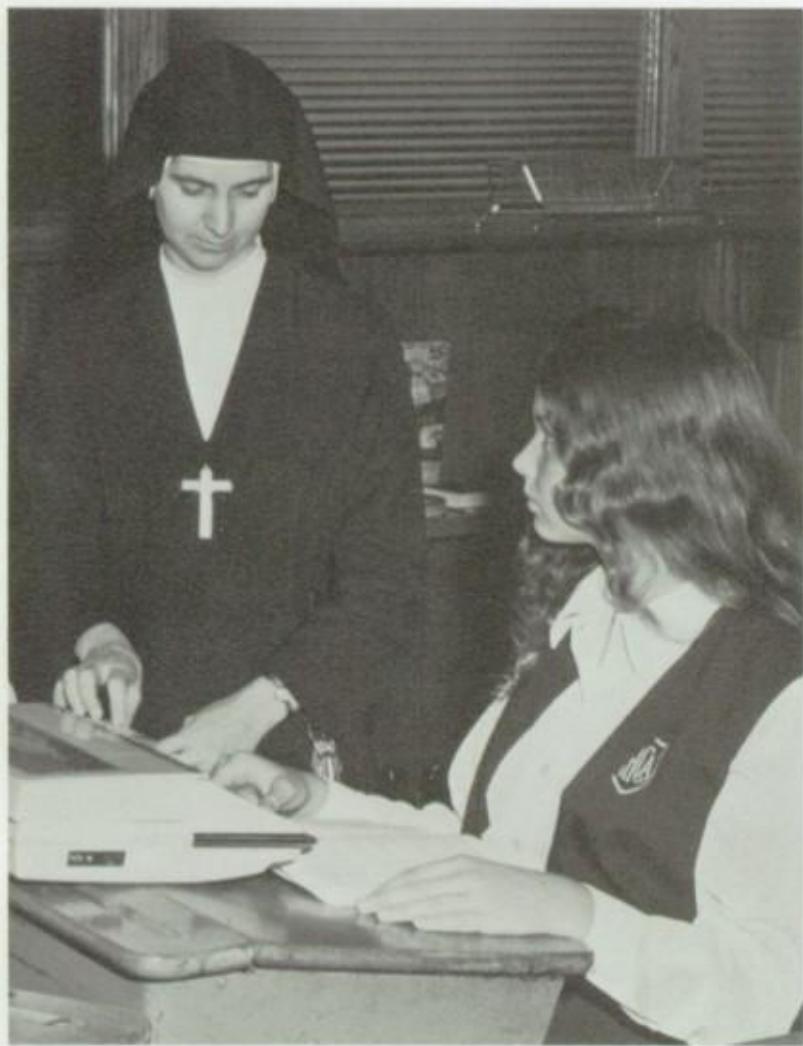

Conchita Bellu offers the dove as the symbol of peace during the Bishop's Mass.

Sr. Theresa Kelly, Father Morris and Mother Provincial look proud after the ceremony during which some of the girls received their C.C.D. certificates.

Priscilla Quintero's face shows intense concentration as she studies for a Theology test.

Sr. Eileen explains to Donna Pignatelli how audio-visual aids can be of help in the study of Religion.

Theology I seminars are well-conducted by Sr. Theresa, who looks surprised at the questions asked by the newcomers.

C.C.D.

Millie Lopez receives the long awaited certificate of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine from Father Morris.

Linda Bernstein and her little children seem a bit surprised by the photographer.

Vitta Fernandez prepares one of her pupils for First Holy Communion.

In many parishes there is a great need for Sunday School teachers. At Mary Help we do our best to answer this need through our C.C.D. Club. The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine is more than just a club. It is a training course for Religion teachers. At our meetings we take in the dimensions of the Word of God, the dimensions of faith, the psychological needs of man and the catechetical consequences. We learn that the catechist must teach, form and initiate.

This two-year course begins in our Sophomore year. The girls learn all the basics, including how to make a lesson plan, and prepare themselves to begin practice teaching during the second year of the course.

At the conclusion of the course the girls receive their pins and certificates at a special Mass. This ending is only the beginning of their work. They find jobs and work during their Senior year; they meet once a week to discuss problems and plan lessons.

The parishes are grateful for this help and encourage the girls to continue their apostolic work in spreading the Good News of Christ.

History

Vitta Fernandez seems to be having a little trouble getting her point across to Sr. Mary F.

The study of cultures, governments, and development of many peoples, when put to use as a guide and reference, turns mere hindsight into an asset which is not only extremely valuable, but which is also very necessary. Through our education in the functioning of many societies and governmental forms, we ready ourselves to meet the challenges that shall confront us in choosing and being wise leaders. We accept these challenges as we travel toward the future supported by the foresight contained in clear visions of the histories of the world.

Sr. Anita explains a confusing point in Ancient History to Hilda Castillo, while the rest of the Freshmen take notes.

The Sophomore history class listens attentively to Monia Saouaf's speech on Alexander the Great.

A combination of past and present reflecting our future

Madame Chairman, Debbie Altieri, introduces the presidential candidates for the 1972 campaign.

The cultural progress of man is seen in his writings. Here at the Academy we concentrate on the various areas of literature as well as on the fundamentals of our English language.

Sr. Mary Terzo and Sr. Anita's combined efforts spur us on to a greater awareness of our creative talents and give us the incentive to put them to use. Our taste for literature and drama grows and matures as we read and analyze not only in the light of our own experiences, but in a wider projection of the universal and timeless situation of mankind.

English

Patricia Dunn writes the definition of a subordinate conjunction.

Hi Katie, Have a nice summer you, in and I'll see you in September. Be good!
Barbara

Sr. Anita comes to the aid of Oresta Ferrito and Barbara Verry.

Pat Hadley, Lynda Taylor, Pat Reid and Debbie Altieri act out one of the plays studied in English class — "The Veldtland".

Pieces of literature and grammar form the kaleidoscope of self-expression.

Learning new vocabulary words is a necessary part of English. Rosemarie Nardella, Janet Massood and Laurie Fierro.

Pamela Perruzzi and Virginia Blewitt try to get a meaningful message from early English poetry.

Sr. Mary T. demonstrates the audio-visual aids, as Barbara Jaouen, Maria Callejas, Debbie Mininni, Diane Bradley and Sharon Straight jot down some helpful hints.

Math

Challenging is the one word to describe Sr. Beatrice's mathematics classes. She is one of the few teachers who is capable of putting so much variety into teaching math. As the Freshmen tackle the basics of Algebra I, the Sophomores and Juniors grapple with the subject in a more complex form. Some of the Sophomores delve into the complicated maze of geometric figures, while a few daring Seniors struggle to grasp the abstract concepts of trigonometry.

Maritza Verson and Sr. Beatrice appear pleased at the fact that Janet Noller has constructed an accurate 50° angle.

The Freshmen math class is totally spellbound at Sr. Beatrice's explanation of fractions.

Dear Katie
Stay the same
this year and don't

this year have fun
I have a have a

Sr. Beatrice stresses her point to the Sophomore math class.

Sr. Beatrice states to the Trigonometry class that the next chapter is "definitely a challenge".

Sr. Beatrice is amazed at the question which has just been asked, but Amelia Bonassini and Robin Van Buren know where they can find the answer.

René Roy attentively listens to Sr. Beatrice's explanation in Trigonometry class.

An individual study period for the Sophomore math class.

Science

A familiar and fascinating field of study at Mary Help is science. Whether it be physical science, botany, biology or chemistry, deep involvement in the topic is inevitable. Science class provides the student with the necessary stimulation which the mind requires. The scientific questions of how, why, where, what and when are easily answered under the direction of Sr. Fanny. Composition of elements, germination of seeds, the skeleton of a bird, the importance of ecology and various other topics are explored extensively.

It requires much hard work, research, and tedious studying, but the reward is great.

Dear Katie,
We have had a lot of fun this year. Especially in history. Haven't we learned a lot in that class! Next year we'll be juniors and that we really be great. Have a great summer.
Love, Judy

The Sophomores do classwork while Sr. Fanny offers individual help to all.

Linda Eissmann and Joanne Piscitelli conduct an experiment to test for hydrogen.

Maria Gaita, Mayra Gonzalez, Mary Fierro, Maria Gonzalez and Grace Garcia prepare a slide for their physical science class.

Searching into our environment and ourselves

Sr. Fanny explains the various parts of the skeletal system to the Sophomore science class.

Philomena Zisa, Diane Bradley, Monica Del Pozo and Donna Lyness are confused by Sr. Fanny's explanation.

Karen Reitmeyer, Marianna Scerbo, Sr. Fanny and Lori Karakashian listen with interest while Donna Petrillo describes the intricacies of the microscope.

Languages

As we extend our horizons to foreign lands, we are enriched with the knowledge of cultures different from our own. Spanish, French and Italian are a major part of the student's cultural education at M.H.C. These classes not only help the girls with the basics of these languages, but they also arouse an interest in the traditions and customs of these countries.

Sr. Elsa's Spanish classes are full of "fiestas" and "siestas", as she introduces us to a better understanding of the Spanish countries. Sr. Eileen and Sr. Celine share the responsibility of teaching the fundamentals of the French language, while Sr. Mary Terzo expertly explains the "do's" and "don'ts" of Italian grammar.

Sr. Eileen asks the French II class for the correct conjugation of the verb "tenir".

Donna Petrillo and Anna Marie Kanson admire the costumes of two typical Spanish dolls.

Lori Karakashian and Irene Torres are fascinated by our home-made Eiffel Tower.

Sr. Mary T. and the Italian III class explore Italian literature.

E Dio ha creato l'uomo e l'uomo ha creato il linguaggio per cantare le lodi di Dio.

Dawn Alexander and Maureen Henry argue with Priscilla Quintero and Sr. Mary T. about the location of an Italian city.

Sr. Mary T. and the Freshmen Italian class listen to Linda Preslopski give a report.

Maryann Morabito, Carmel-Ann Mania, Cathy Limongi and Ethel Eaddy try to increase their vocabulary by playing a game of Spanish Scrabble.

Sr. Elsa corrects Patty Dunn so that Maria Fernández, Cheryl Radice and Elaine Bartholf can keep on singing.

Michele Lauretta and Sandy Sisti appreciate Kathy Wilhelm's explanation of the symbol on the Peruvian flag.

Y Dios creo al hombre y el hombre creo el lenguaje para interpretar a Dios.

The French III class takes a test under the supervision of Sr. Celine.

The French II class reads silently as Sr. Eileen looks on.

Dieu a créé l'homme et l'homme a créé le langage pour chanter la gloire de Dieu

Hortensia Rojas listens attentively as Sr. Eileen explains the geography of France.

Ginette Haddad seems to have found the perfect spot for reading a French book.

Music

Eva Kuc strums the melody from a new sheet of music.

Susan De Marco concentrates on rhythm and timing.

Under the intense instruction of Sr. Rose, the girls in the music class not only learn theory but also how to play musical instruments. The girls also study the backgrounds of some of the greatest musicians that ever lived, such as, Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms. After finishing the music course, the girls have a feeling of accomplishment, and a better understanding of the mind of a musical genius.

Playing the recorders is one of the favorite activities of the Sophomore music class.

Art

Chris Sidney and Sr. Elsa enjoy preparing the decorations for a bulletin board.

Working silently on one of her "masterpieces" is Virginia Blewitt.

Sr. Elsa teaches Mary Ellen Record, Michele Bristow, Lisa Santoro and Irene Nessel the basics of plaster casting.

There is in everyone a secret path waiting to be found, surrounded by talents waiting to be developed.

In the Art classes, Sr. Elsa and Sr. Celine try to make each girl fully aware of her capabilities. Amateurs at first, they may become "great artists" when the course is through.

Health, First Aid, Driver's Ed.

Though new to our school, Mrs. Scullion is already an indispensable member of our family. Her lively personality and enthusiasm brings interest to even the monotonous studies of Health, First Aid, and Driver's Education. The Freshmen Health I class goes into the study of the human body, while the Sophomores in First Aid learn to cope with emergency situations. The Juniors taking Driver's Ed. find that driving is a big responsibility and not as easy as it seems. Though most of us forget a good deal of what we have learned in these classes, we do remember the basics and are encouraged to have greater respect and care for human life.

Mrs. Scullion attends to Marie-Angela Mania's sore toe while Chris Sidney watches.

Traffic signs are unfamiliar to Donna Sprainitis, Colette Samsel and Sandra Waddell, but not so to Mrs. Scullion.

The Sophomore First Aid class is amused by Mrs. Scullion's questions.

Bernice May gets ready for another driving lesson with Mrs. Scullion.

Karen Reitmeyer puts a cold compress on Donna Petrillo's ankle.

Practical, useful knowledge acquired through experience

Dear Katy,

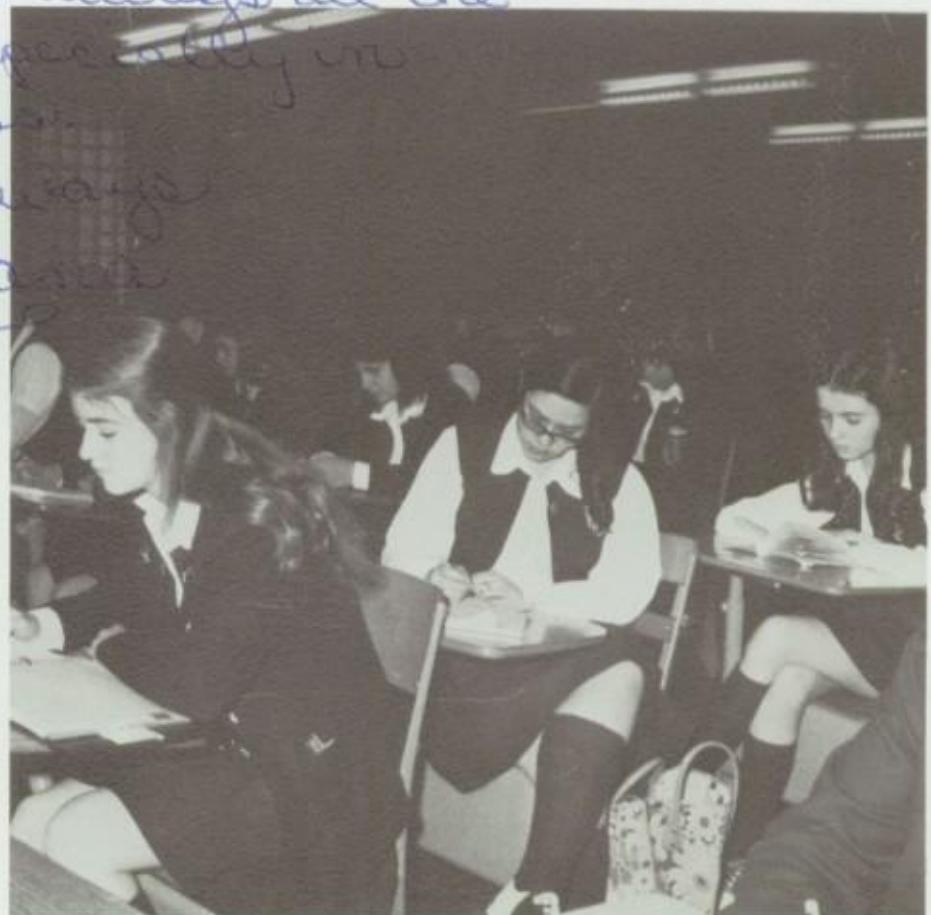

It's really been great knowing you for 2 years already. Remembers always all the good times we had, especially in the boring French class.

Love always

Luisa

Rosanne Di Marsico, Susana Castellano and Debbie Backert practice bandaging injured wrists.

The Freshmen take notes during Health class.

Physical Education

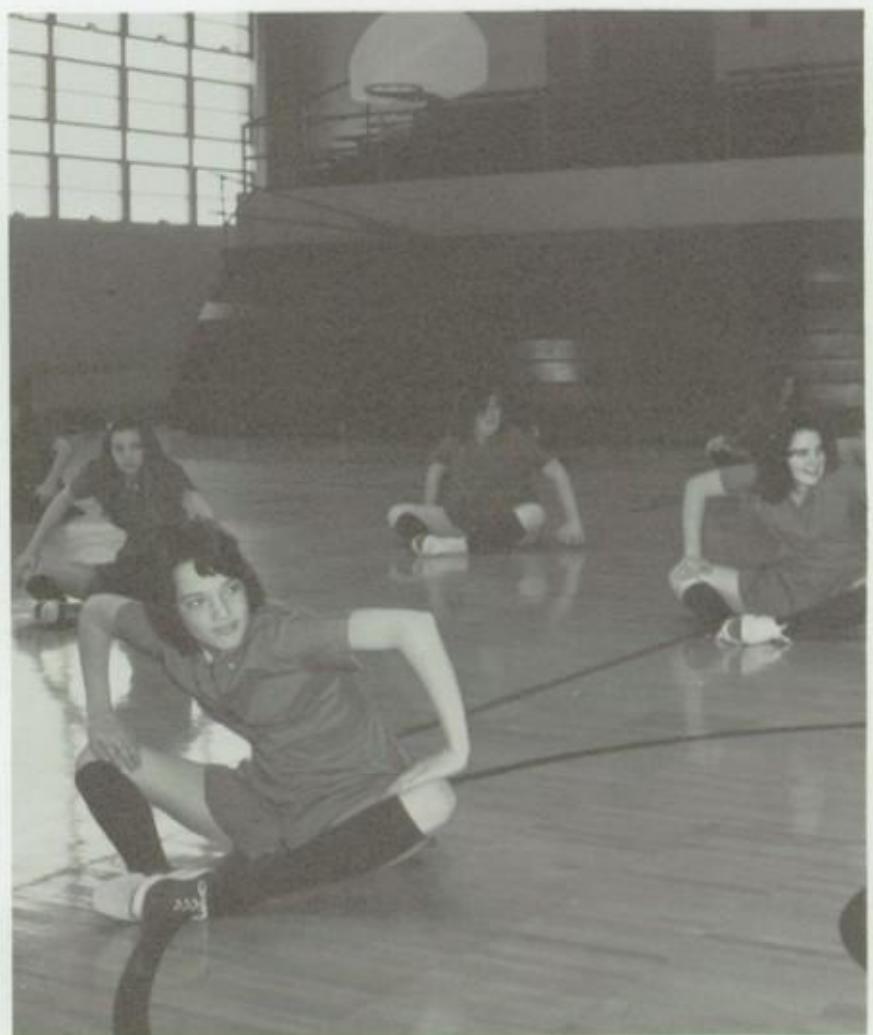

"One, two, three, four, get your head to touch the floor," is a phrase one often hears in our gym classes with Mrs. Scullion. However tedious and monotonous the exercises may be, gym is one of our most fun-filled courses. With her patience and skill, Mrs. Scullion perseveres at teaching us the most difficult of acrobatics and gymnastics.

Five laps is the only way to start a gym class.

Donna Lyness performs a forward bow while Cathy Squatrito and Joanne Nicolosi spot.

The secret of good figures is exercise, as these Sophomores will know.

The discipline of coordinated movement

The Juniors — examples of discipline and coordination.

Commercial

There is a constant rhythm as the nimble fingers of the typists glide across the keys. Typing, along with steno, accounting and business math are all incorporated in our commercial courses.

Sister Ida expertly prepares the girls in the fields of their choice. Upon graduation everyone feels confident of her chances of securing a position.

Sr. Ida watches her Business Math class while they work independently.

LoriLyn Cheff, Dorothy Delaquis, and Debbie Pagnillo strive to master the keyboard.

The Junior Typing I class strives to get as many words in a minute as possible.

Sandra Ward, Barbara Jaouen, and Jackie Posthuma wait patiently for dictation to begin.

Exercise caution in your business affairs.

Marilyn Garcia, Pamela Perruzi and Donna Zuk are deeply engrossed in their dictation.

The Steno II class takes dictation as Sr. Ida shows her approval.

The Juniors copy their first lesson confidently.

Training the hands to be quicker than the eye

Sr. Ida and the Accounting class figure the difference between debits and credits.

Dolores Lupinelli is puzzled by one of her accounting problems.

Maria Callejas wonders whether or not her answer is right.

Sr. Ida supervises as Michele Bristow and Liane Pepe type.

... it all adds up to a career

Vitta Fernandez, Mary Ann Meneses, Vicki La Malva and Linda Bernstein work very hard in the Personal Typing class.

Emilia Collado and Joanne Holloman look like they are enjoying typing class.

Sports

What school is complete without sports? Here at Mary Help we have a wide variety of games and sports — anything from ping-pong to track.

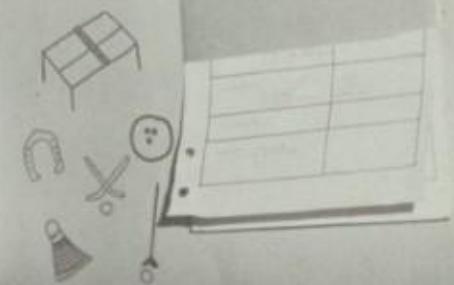

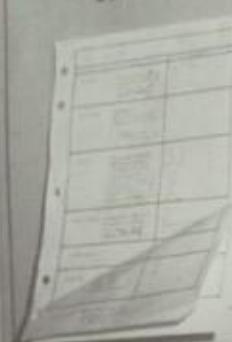

Freshmen as well as Seniors find just the right sphere in which they can improve and develop their skills. Through our sports program we have not only received the honor of victory and the disappointment of defeat, but also a feeling of satisfaction in mastering each and every single technique.

Varsity

Our varsity basketball players are, to say the least, dynamic. All their excess energy and determination are put to good use not only to win the game, but also to learn to face defeat. Unending Salesian spirit and sportsmanship are high among the players and spectators. After strenuous practices, held three times a week, under our "very own slave driver", Mrs. Scullion, the girls go home exhausted, but happy and filled with the certainty of victory.

The S-Ettes set up a defense in the Manchester game.

The past pupils were rusty, but their spirit was high at the Alumnae game.

Cheerleaders

With their lively spirits and constant smiles, our cheerleaders do much to sustain the enthusiasm of both the team and the spectators throughout the basketball season. The girls' natural coordination and skills are perfected so that by the time competition begins their performance is at its peak.

The cheerleaders discover what a perfectionist Mrs. Scullion truly is as they go through a cheer for the tenth time just trying to coordinate one little movement.

Their cheerful faces can get a response from even the gloomiest crowd. Essential and willing our cheerleaders are the backbone of Salesian Spirit.

Mary Fitzgerald and Pat Hadley, Captain and Co-captain of our varsity cheerleaders.

Pat Hadley and Kathy Larkin keep the S-ette spirit going.

Marie Perez, a Freshmen, seems a little nervous before cheering.

Mercy Perez takes a rest between cheers.

Exhibiting their cheering abilities are Debbie Taylor, Gloria Conforti, and Marie Perez.

Keeping our spirit cheerful and lively

Top row: Laura Van Fleet, Debbie Mininni, Mercedes Perez, Mary Fitzgerald, Mrs. Scullion, Pat Hadley, Kathy Larkin, Robin Van Buren, and Jacqueline Vanderhook.

Intramurals

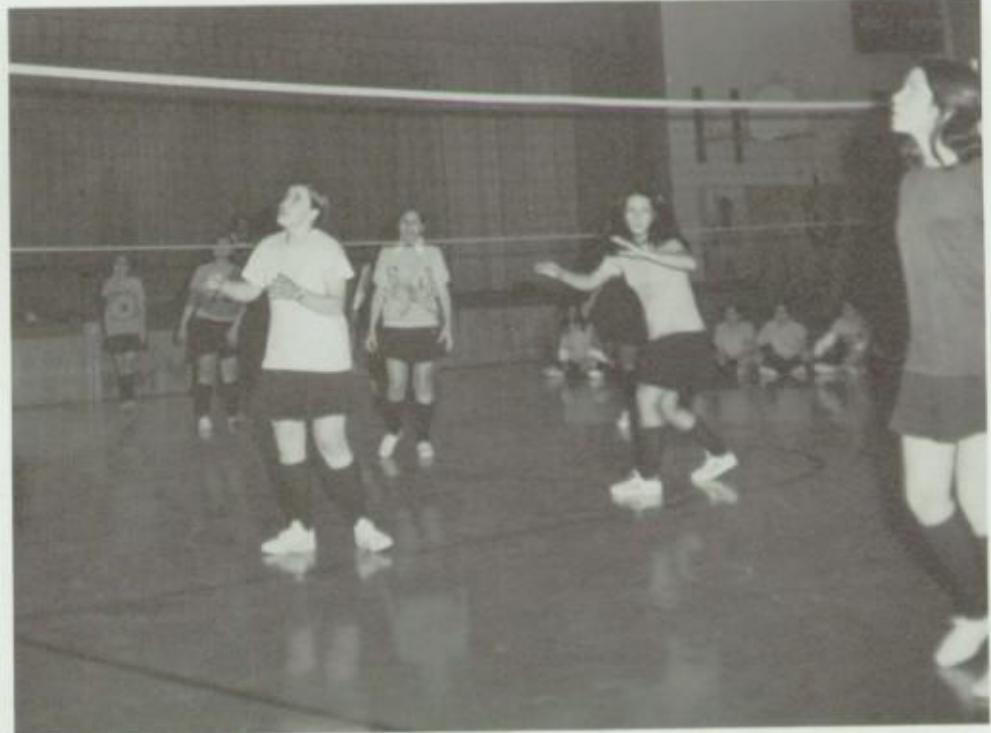

The bleachers tremble under the pounding force of stamping feet, the rhythm of clapping hands and the echoing shouts of each girl present. Intramurals teach us the value of athletic competition wherein we learn to accept defeat and victory with the same spirit of sportsmanship. Every class puts up a long hard fight along the road towards a trophy — the symbol of true achievement.

Helen Wilhelm accepts the volleyball trophy from Mrs. Scullion on behalf of the Senior class.

Denise Shabet serves the ball during volleyball intramurals.

The Juniors wonder where the ball went.

"Follow the bouncing ball." Mary Di Bartolo, Susan De Marco and Grace Casanova.

The agony of defeat and the ecstasy of victory

Carmel-Ann Mania steals the ball while Patricia Hadley, Donna Fowlkes and Anna Marie Kanson hope for the best.

Grace Casanova takes a foul shot during the Freshmen-Junior intramural game.

Softball and Minor Sports

Debbie Passano, Maruja Vargas and Terri Kropf watch Carolyn Shepperson and Madelyn Carafello practice for the softball intramurals.

"Whack!" "Run!" "Hurry up!" "She's out!" "No, she's safe!" These shouts typify an M.H.C. softball game. As winter turns into spring, basketball turns into softball . . . and the spirit accompanies us from the gym to the field.

From knock-hockey to roller-skating, from ice-skating to gymnastics, the individual can attain a feeling of accomplishment within her own range of ability.

Some anxious spectators watch as Camille Caruso swings for a home run.

An aerial view of the field during a softball game between the Juniors and the Seniors.

Caridad Perez watches as Donna Pignatelli tries for a strike.

Marilyn Garcia tries to beat her own record at the broad jump.

Evidence of our varied interests

Dilia Suriel, Connie Sama, Donna Sprainitis, Barbara Jaouen, Alanna Van Seeters, Louise Farnhagen and Mary Zuk listen to Joanne Holloman and Marilyn Caramico explain some of the techniques of kick-ball.

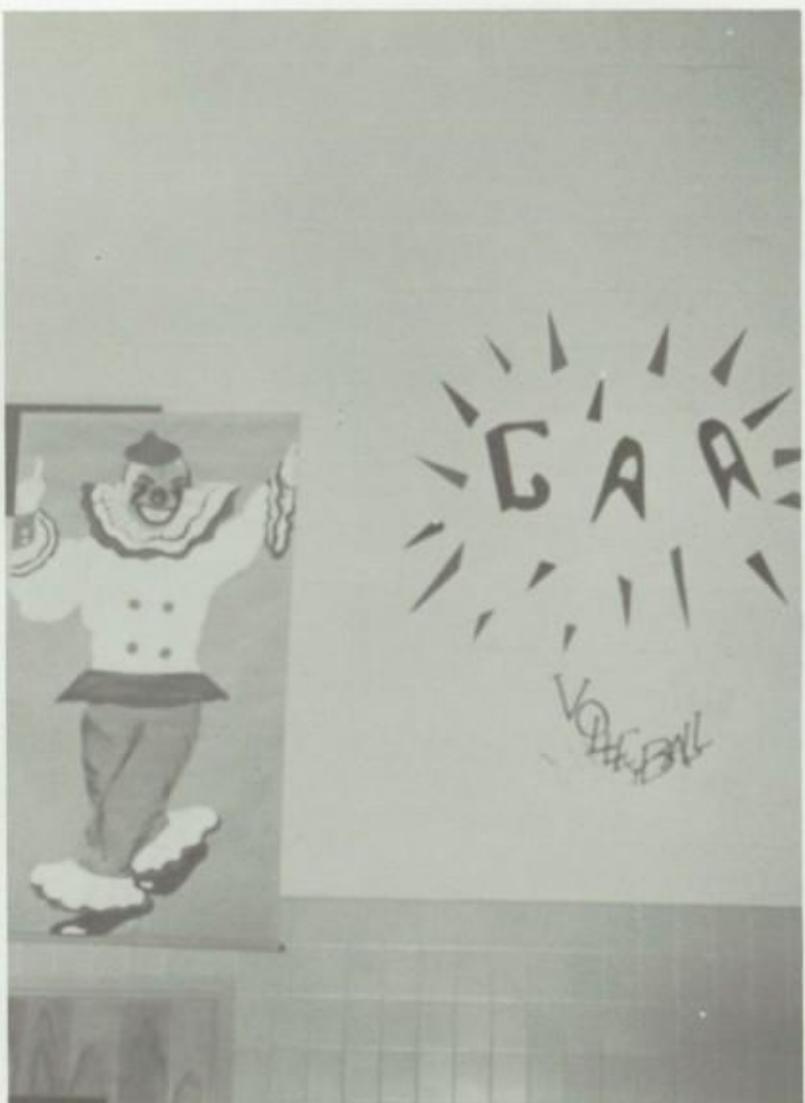

Eva Kuc exhibits her ability to take the high jump on field day.

G.A.A.

Helping Mrs. Scullion time a volleyball game are Linda Eissmann, Diane Piscitelli, Mary DiBartolo and Mabel Portillo.

Our cheerful G.A.A. clown welcomes everyone as they pass through the gym.

With representatives from each of the classes, the Girl's Athletic Association plans the year's sports activities. This job, of course, would be impossible if it were not for the help of Mrs. Scullion. Working together they give each girl the opportunity to participate in sports and promote team unity and good sportsmanship.

The marriage of mind and soul to create...

Student Council

The responsibility of maintaining quiet and decorum in the corridors and general assemblies belongs to our student council. They have the tough job of bringing all suggestions, complaints and criticisms of the office. They act as mediators between students and faculty, fostering a closer relationship. With the cooperation of all, our Student Council is able to make changes and obtain privileges. Their efforts on our behalf have earned them our respect and gratitude.

Sr. Julia places a rose with a prayer for the success of the student council.

Being President and Vice-President of student council gives Rose Albacete and Linda Bernstein the opportunity to have a closer relationship with our principal, Sr. Julia.

Rose Albacete accepts the student council torch, symbol of responsibility, from Sr. Julia.

With constant work and responsibility, they mature

Roses and prayers are offered for our Lady's intercession.

Cathy Squatrito and Angela Soteriou expectantly await to receive their student council ribbons.

Auxilium Choir

The Auxilium Choir sings to their heart's content.

What is our world without music—our world without the joyfully reverberating voices of the Auxilium Choir? We are a microcosm vibrantly responsive to the music of the masters. The patient guidance of Sr. Rose, combined with the girls' immense efforts, has brought great accomplishments to our various musical endeavors. Their artistry is shown through musical compositions which range from Christmas Polkas to Gregorian Chants.

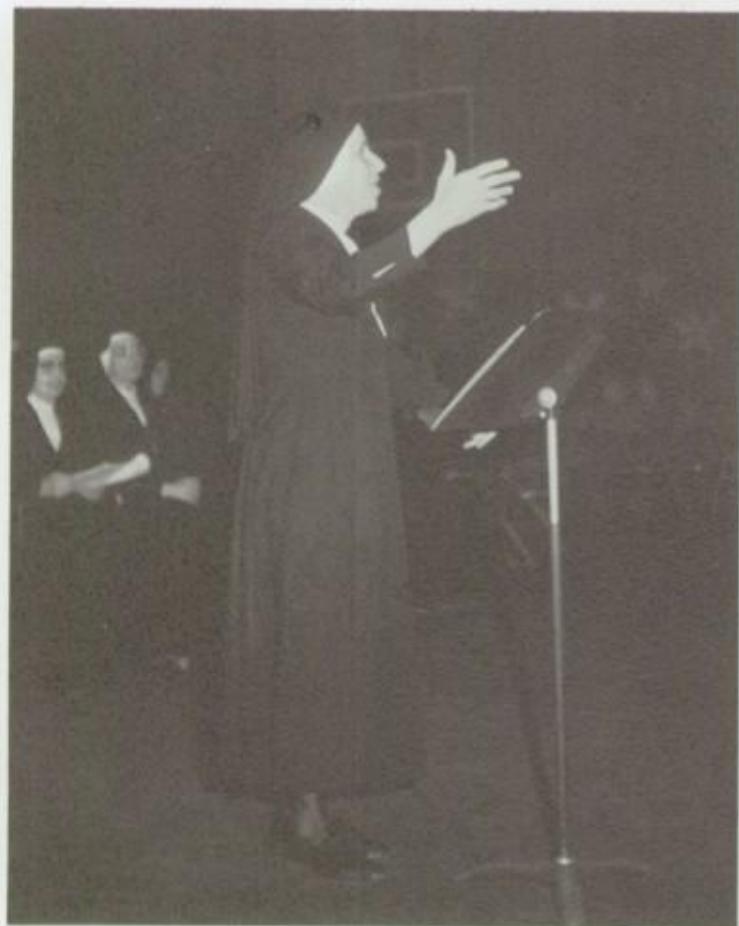

Cathy Squatrito, Camille Acquaviva and Sr. Rose follow the music with intense concentration.

Sr. Rose and her choir add a musical touch to our daily mass.

To sing for the glory of God...

Sr. Rose, our vigorous choir director.

Some of the choir members practice with Cathy Squatrito during activity period.

All Occasion Theater

Delia Suriel as Our Lady of Fatima, Miriam Rodriguez as Bernadette, and Marilyn Gracia as the guard in the moving final scene of the operetta.

A visit to the All Occasion Theater at our school opens the doors to a world of fantasy and fun. Here the hidden talents of the students emerge and blossom to bring you entertainment equal to a night on the town. The budding dramatists explore the worlds of Sophocles, Shakespeare, Marlowe and Shaw, as they come to know the atmosphere of the theater.

Gina Perez portrayed Bernadette's mother in the Christmas play.

*Through laughter and tears
we express ourselves*

Sonia Cabrera and Diane King try to decide how to arrange some props for one of the school's plays.

Joyce Torres, Irene Torres, as the two "gendarmes" in the play "Our Lady of Fatima."

Interpreting life in the theater

Hilda Castillo presents the five gold rings to Laurie Radice during the Christmas show.

Happy faces give an appropriate ending to the Christmas Polka. The dancers are: Irene Torres, Cathy Muir, Marilyn Caramico, Carletta Twitty, Donna Fowlkes, and Carolyn Shepperson.

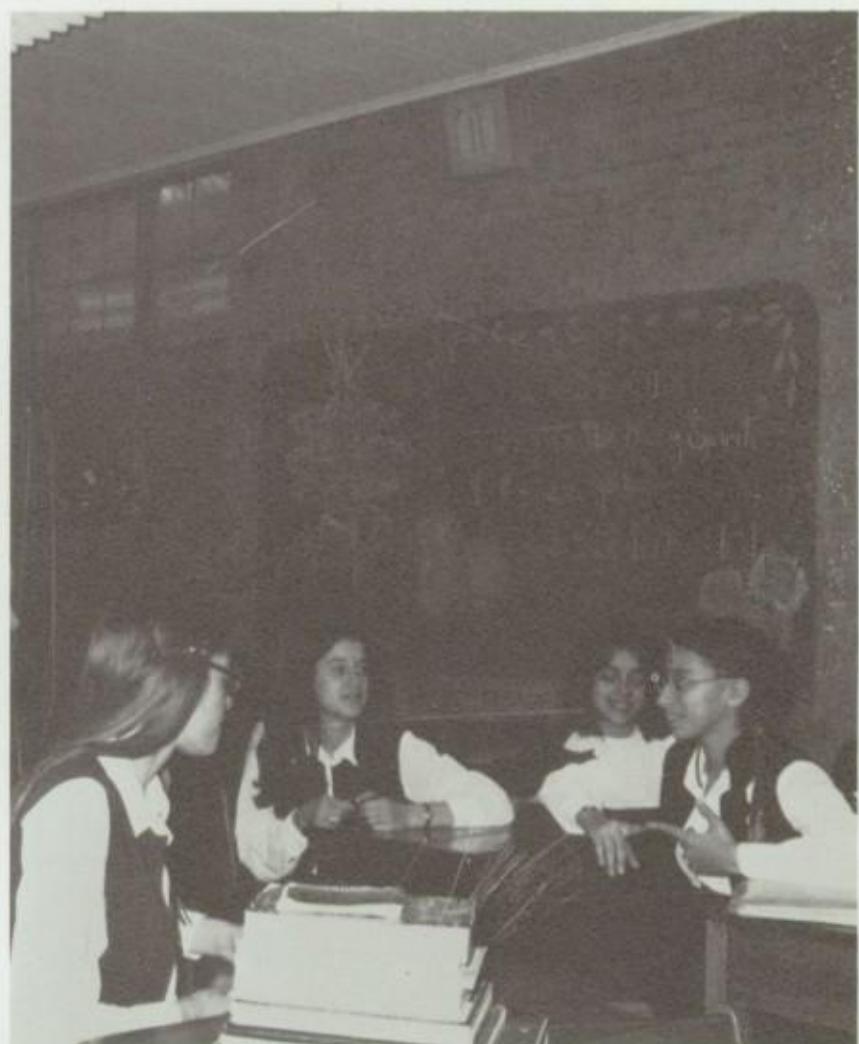

Lia Romano takes a bow after her performance as a lady in the Twelve Days of Christmas.

Liturgy Club

Rosanne Di Marsico and Diane Piscitelli prepare the vestments for Mass.

Kathy Wilhelm, Mabel Martinez, and Stephane Spano listen to Elizabeth Lopez explain the various types of vestments.

To arrange a well-prepared Liturgy is not the easiest thing in the world. Much effort and many long hours are needed to "get it just right." There are many things to do: readings to choose, petitions to write, the color of the vestments to be decided — the list could go on and on.

Sr. Theresa patiently instructs the girls in the essentials of the difficult job of preparing daily Mass. Not only do they become competent for this task, but they also come to a better understanding of the Liturgy.

Linda Bernstein, president, explains the meaning of Christian unity week.

Library Aides

Helping Sr. Carmela with her task as librarian at M.H.C. are a group of girls called the Library Aides. Among their many responsibilities are checking out books and placing them in their right order on the shelves. Without their valuable help, Sr. Carmela would have a much bigger job on her hands than she has now. Sr. Carmela and the Library Aides make a fantastic team.

Sonia Cabrera and Sr. Cecilia patiently file the magazines often used for research.

Maureen Dillon, Mary Jane D'Ambrosio, and Jackie Posthuma are engaged in checking the files for overdue books.

Marilyn Caramico, Terry Vander Meulen, and Sr. Carmela pay close attention to the minutes of the past meeting.

Mission Club

Maria Callejas and Elsa Vasquez check over some of the toys brought in for the mission fair.

To give and to share are the greatest expressions of love within our world. To see a smile on the face of a once hungry child is the joyful reward of our efforts.

Sr. Anita, along with the members of our Mission Club arrange various fund raising drives. Their most important activity is their annual mission fair which is held on Salesian Mission day. The girls join together with hundreds around the world in the hope of providing a better life for many people.

Joanne Holloman counts the money the Mission club collects every Tuesday.

Susan Fodi and Millie Lopez listen to a tape recorded message from Mother Lydia in the missions.

Auxilium Staff

Sr. Anita, our moderator and Helen Wilhelm, our editor, worked hard and long hours to make our yearbook a success.

It all started when we unsuspectingly signed a paper headed by the words "Yearbook Staff." From that moment on, we committed ourselves to the monumental task of putting together this album of our thoughts and efforts. The Layout Staff assembled the framework of our book. The Financial Staff efficiently solved our financial problems by constantly striving to raise funds through ads and contributions. The Literary and Photography Staffs transcribed thoughts and events into words and images and it was the Typing Staff who put these thoughts down in black and white.

We are grateful to Sr. Anita for her expert guidance in a field that was completely new to us.

Meticulous is the word to describe Helen Wilhelm, our Editor-in-Chief, whose constant dedication to the cause of Auxilium '73 has helped to make this book a reality.

The layout staff at work in Publications. Elizabeth Salcedo — editor, Victoria La Malva, Rose Albacete, Linda Bernstein, Kim Keraitis, Maria Montesdeoca, Grace Agrusti, LoriLynn Cheff and Kathleen Comer.

The literary staff could always be found writing major copies or captions in the strangest places. They were often found on the bleachers. Carmel-Ann Mania, Linda Eissmann, Carol Ziccardi, Nancy Calandriello, Marie-Angela Mania, Pat Hadley, Vitta Fernandez — editor, Barbara Grice and Lina Fernandez.

Keeping financial records was one of the many tasks of the financial staff. Martha Brito, Mary Ann Meneses — Ads Manager, Joanne Piscitelli — Editor, Debbie Pagnillo, Margueret Tumalty, Angela Cubillos, Ethel Eddy, Mary Fitzgerald, Joann Bocchino, Lynda Taylor and Dolores Lupinelli.

Our typing staff worked long and hard to make sure that every piece of copy was typed without a mistake. Rose Albacete, Angela Disimino, Joanne Bocchino, Chris Sidney, Mary Frances Addice, Marilyn Garcia, Marie-Angela Mania, Angela Cubillos and Lynda Taylor. Missing: Liane Pepe — Editor, and Debbie Altieri.

The photography staff captured memories long to be remembered. Miriam Rodriguez, Rosa Santifiore, Cathy Limongi, Isabel Estevez — Editor, Diane Piscitelli, Debbie Altieri and Camille Caruso.

The artistic portion of our yearbook was done by Mary Fitzgerald, Elizabeth Salcedo, Cathy Limongi, Patricia Reid and Eva Kuc.

Love and effort blended to form these moments

Sodality

Diane Piscitelli and Martha Brito place the statue of the Immaculate Conception in Her shrine on December 8.

The object of their lives is to make their love of man and, above all, their love of God more perfect, to radiate a Christian Spirit from within their sphere. Their faith and active witness are inseparable friends which lighten every burden and make all trials small.

With Sr. Eileen's constant efforts the Sodality members strive for ultimate perfection, with Our Lady as their model.

Priscilla Quintero and René Roy tend to the pleasant duty of placing flowers at the feet of Mary Help of Christians.

Sodality members, René Roy, Joanne Holloman, Amelia Bonassim, Sr. Eileen, Priscilla Quintero and Sharon Straight prepare a special Mass in Our Lady's honor.

Art Club

Who said crayons are just for "drawing" pictures? Cheryl Grotz, Judy Marinaro and Marianna Scerbo.

Sr. Elsa searches through magazines to find examples of various types of art work.

Every world has its artists. Ours can be found displaying their abilities under the supervision of Sr. Elsa and Sr. Celine. Their talents are put to further good use as we call upon them to supply stage properties, banners, and posters for school activities.

Making sure that their drawing will turn out perfect, Joanne Bocchino and Marie-Angela Mania listen attentively to directions.

Math Club

Mary Diodato laughingly presents a problem to Blanca Gonzalez, Eileen Hoffmann and Eileen Henry.

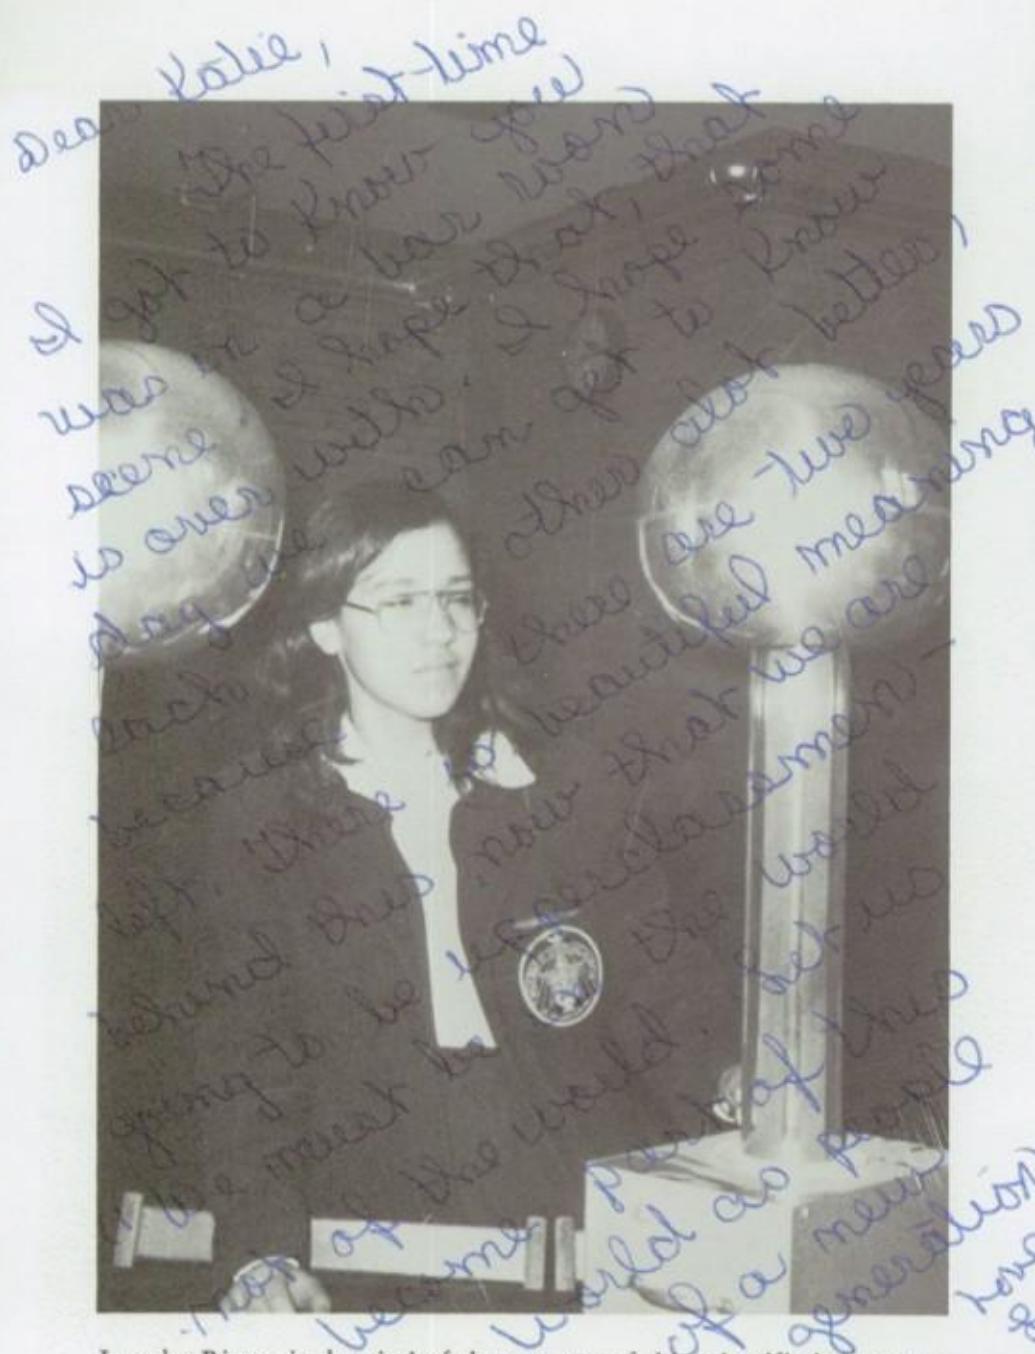

Joanne Nicolosi and Susan DeMarco debate the principles behind a percentage problem.

For those of us who are truly intrigued by all that math can offer, this is the place to be! Sr. Beatrice astounds us with a wide variety of problems and brain teasers. An intricate equation becomes but a simple application of a basic principle.

Donna Sprainitis and Colette Samsel make use of the overhead projector in the explanation of the graphing of points.

Science Club

Lourdes Rivera is skeptical of the accuracy of this scientific instrument.

The Science Club proves to be an outlet to those girls who are intrigued by the fascinating field of science.

Under the expert direction of Sr. Fanny, the girls undertake challenging experiments and research projects which lead them to a better understanding of our world. Their areas of research include Astrology, Ecology, Psychology, Chemistry and Physics.

Sr. Fanny and Connie Sama expectantly await questions from the club members on the topic of the day.

Laura Zack, Janice DeFarro, Maureen Wend, and Michele Hubbard test possible electronic conductors.

Mrs. Eissmann, Mrs. Shabet and Mrs. Tesauro are three mothers dedicated to the cause of a successful Spaghetti Dinner.

P.T.G.

From the very bottom of our hearts we wish to thank you for your time and effort, Mr. Holloman, which went into making our gym floor so beautiful! A thousand thanks!!

Eagerness is a common characteristic at the P.T.G.'s different affairs. Mr. Addice and Mrs. Agrusti iron out one of those "last minute" wrinkles in their plans.

Our Parent Teacher's Guild contributes greatly to our family spirit. Their constant support proves to be a great boost to our morale on the rare occasion when our enthusiasm seems to sag.

They sponsor many affairs such as the Communion Supper and the Spaghetti Dinner and to end the year with a bang, they hold the annual Family Picnic.

Besides working very hard at the different activities, they promote a better understanding between parents and faculty.

They have the trophy of thanks that will linger in our endless "Hall of Fame."

Special Services

Sr. Michelle keeps the students well-fed with her tasty and balanced meals.

Sr. Mary is the sister in the infirmary who cares for our resident students who may be ill.

To those who have devoted their time to enriching our world with their specific talents, we leave a special word of thanks. It is they who do those things which might never be noticed unless they were left undone.

Mr. Patrissi is the photographer and friend whose professional know-how and advice have proved invaluable to Auxilium '73.

Mr. Vitale the maintenance man, is responsible for keeping our campus at its best.

1972

One hundred years in many lands...

Centennial

A century filled

Mother General accepts the best wishes of the Holy Father upon the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the Salesian sisters.

Mother Letizia shows her love and respect for the American flag.

Perhaps it would be best to begin at the beginning. One hundred years ago, in a small church in Mornese, a small group of girls decided to dedicate their lives to work for the welfare of youth. In spite of their disadvantages, they accomplished very much, and within a few years their number was greatly increased. Their immense zeal and fervor were their distinguishing qualities, and under the guidance of Mother Maria Mazzarello, they fulfilled the wishes of Our Lady. They dedicated themselves to the education and instruction of youth, to works of social assistance, and to the foreign missions.

Still today, their activities have presented themselves as tangible proofs that these qualities of the Salesian Sisters have passed, with flying colors, the test of time.

with tears and laughter

Mother Ausilia and Mother Provincial toured the Salesian schools in honor of the centennial.

The Auxilium Choir with the accompaniment of the organ add a majestic air to the Centennial Mass at St. John's Cathedral.

At the Centennial Mass the congregation is blessed by Bishop Casey.

Bishop Casey consecrates the Salesian center at its opening in September of 1972.

For God my love

Maria Montesdeoca lights the Salesian Torch to signal the beginning of the Centennial Olympics.

Martha Brito, the bearer of the M.H.C. flag, accepts the remembrance pin from Mother Ausilia as Mother Provincial looks on.

Kim Keraitis, Martha Brito and Maryann Morabito make decorations for the centennial celebrations.

For youth my care

St. Anthony's Junior S-Eettes cheer their team on to victory.

Teresa Teper, Angela Soteriou, Vera Marjanovic and Marirene Puente welcome Mother Ausilia in their native tongue.

Kim Keraitis portraying a missionary sister gets last minute instructions from Sr. Anita.

Brother Paul's cadettes receive their awards from Mother Provincial and Mother Ausilia.

St. Gerard's cheerleaders compete at an Olympic contest.

Frances Cingari, a varsity S-ette, receives her medal from Mother Provincial, Mother Ausilia and Sr. Ann.

The Olympic ribbons and trophies are presented before Mary, our Mother.

An ever increasing spirit of harmony and growth...

Kathy Hufford reads her proposal to Susan De Marco as her punishment in Kangaroo court.

Student Life

The Seniors await the bus that will take them on their class trip to Rocking Horse Ranch.

Donna Fowikes and Ethel Eaddy recuperate after taking part in a Spanish skit.

It is extremely difficult to convey to one who has never experienced it, the atmosphere characteristic of Mary Help of Christians Academy which sets our world apart from the larger universe. It is an ever-increasing spirit of harmony and growth.

The student life here, in a world of illimitable knowledge and untapped resources, reflects the availability of outlets for energy for today's youth. Whether in academics or in the field of sports, each individual finds the opportunity to fulfill the need for self-expression.

Hard work and dreams ...

more beautiful and complete

Jean Record and Ellen Blewitt wait patiently, hoping Sr. Julia will finally decide to give them a late pass.

Sr. Eileen appears surprised to have her picture taken, but Marilyn Garcia and Elizabeth Salcedo are too involved in their work to notice.

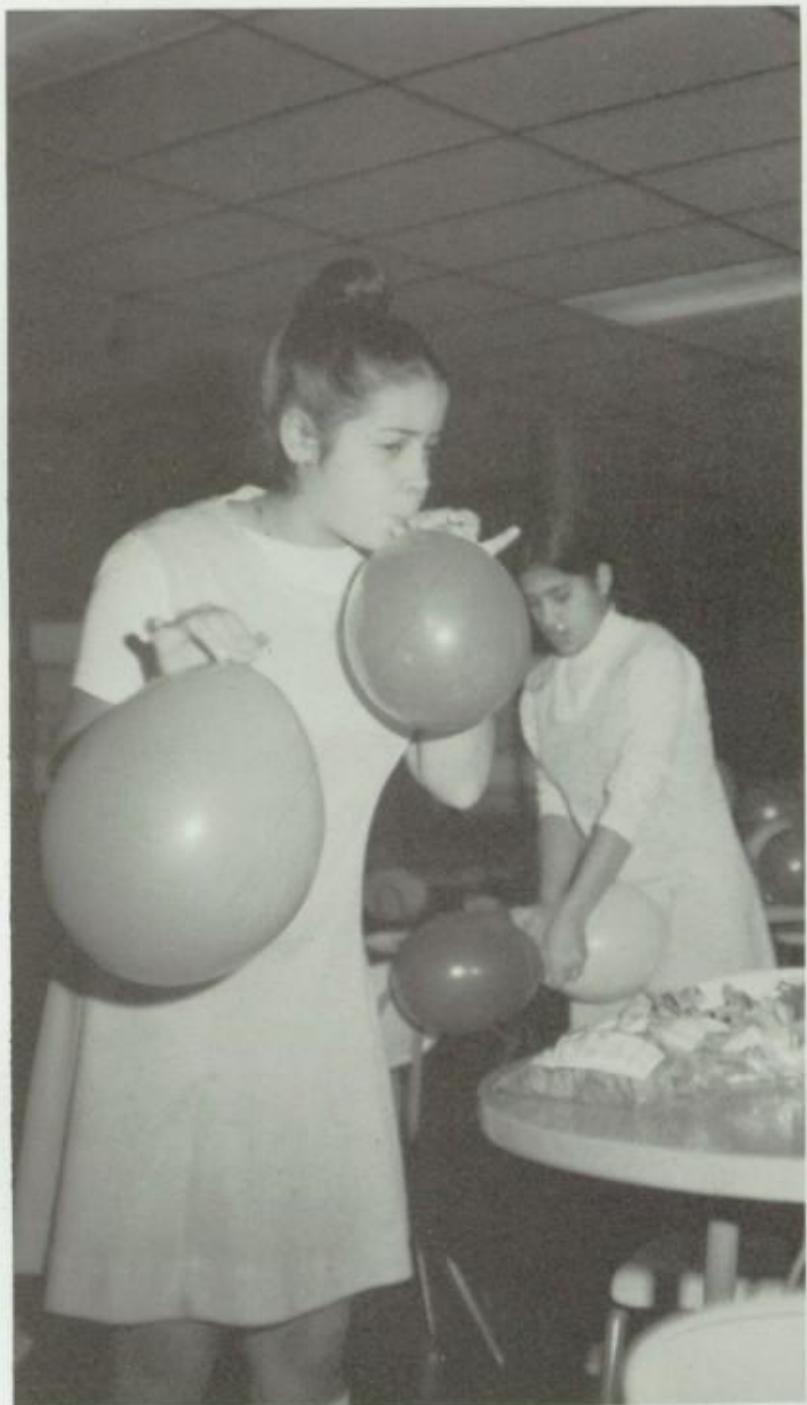

The residents are a vital part of our small community. Their friendly smiles and personalities have made our last year a memorable one. They have the spirit of every S-Ette and a willingness that stands out in all they do.

At night one can see them in the gym, reading, trying to cram for an exam, playing, and believe it or not, even having their own private dance!

Resident Life

Aiming to reach new horizons...

Class of '73

As the Monday morning of responsibility draws near, childish things are left behind to be stored in our hearts for future reference. In parting, our memories return to years diligently spent, carefully planned, and fully enjoyed. We've soared to the heights of our ideals and striven to reach beyond our grasp. But though we continue to move on, we know that what we have left behind will fill us with warm remembrances. And as we step out into life, the things we have learned will stay forever a part of ourselves. The days spent may seem to have been "mere specks" in our lives, but to those of us who have really lived them, they've meant the beginning of everything.

We leave but never close the door.

Millie Lopez and Linda Bernstein are amused by Miriam Rodriguez's story telling.

Linda Eissmann and Joanne Piscitelli put up the flag at the start of a new day.

Camille Caruso, Nancy Calandriello and Carol Zicardi always find time for a few minutes of relaxation.

As Pat Reid crowns the Blessed Mother, we too, place our hearts in Mary's trust.

A yellow rose is offered as the symbol of the unity of our class. Fr. Allue, Martha Brito.

Our devotion to Mary, our Mother, is so much a part of us, that she is included in each and every one of those cherished and meaningful moments of our school life. May 24th climaxes the outward manifestations of our love for Mary with Her crowning and the reception of our Senior rings. It is a simple, yet deeply symbolic tradition which imprints an indelible memory in each heart.

The final touch is added by the Sophomore class at the Ring Banquet, which is the result of their united efforts and thoughtfulness.

A heartfelt prayer of consecration to Our Lady. Pat Reid.

Crowning

Our simple thank you to St. Theresa. Debbie Altieri.

Our first step to seniority. Fr. Allué, Mary Frances Addice.

You are the Crown of Creation.

Our class president, Ethel Eaddy cuts the cake, while Bernice May, Meg Tumalty and Angela Cubillos look on.

"We were here first!" Donna Zuk, Teresa Teper, Liane Pepe and Cathy Comer.

Sharing their opinions in one of their many informal discussions. Vitta Fernández, Vicky La Malva, Isabel Estevez, Marilyn Garcia, Elizabeth Salcedo and MaryAnn Meneses.

"Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's the prettiest one of all?" Susan Recker, Pam Perruzzi, Virginia Blewitt, Lynn Loranger.

Our hearts never leave.

Seniors relaxing on their very own steps. Barbara Grice, Helen Wilhelm, Diane Piscitelli, Mary Fitzgerald and René Roy.

"Over the mountains and through the woods." Maria Montesdeoca, Pat Hadley, Lynda Taylor, Debbie Altieri and Rose Albacete.

Grace Agrusti is undisturbed by the prospect of attending gym class.

Sharing a few last moments are, Dolores Lupinelli, Dot Delaquis, Debbie Pagnillo and Lisa Losco.

Farewell

We hold in our hands a tiny, yet dynamic spark of life. We have still to go from here, to discover new friendships and fathom the depths of glimpsed at horizons.

We are awake to and mindful of life, and anxiously await the summons to build our future creatively. Our hands are outstretched, hoping, yearning. Our hearts are opened, ready to love.

We have crossed the threshold of childhood, and have come to the portals of maturity. No longer are our outlooks held captive by selfishness. We have reflections that extend further than today and much further than tomorrow.

We are the mirror of days still to come, of histories yet to be made.

Two roads are set before us — one easy, the other difficult. We have been called. We have been led. We must choose! The future calls and we must answer.

Let us strive for a better understanding and a peaceful world. Let us achieve our goal no matter how far and difficult. Let us be eager and willing. Let us be what we are. Let us be YOUTH!!!

MARTICA:

We live when we are true to ourselves, authentic in our feelings, responsive to our convictions; we live when we love, when we are involved in the lives of each other, when we are committed and concerned; we live when we build, create, hope, suffer, and rejoice.

I treasure life in myself and give it to you; giving it to you it comes back to me. For life, like love cannot thrive inside its own threshold but is renewed as it offers itself. Life grows as it is spent.

Love always,

To Our Fantastic "Big Sisters"

The Class of 1973

We would like to show our deepest gratitude to you for being the greatest "Big Sisters" there could ever be! You have helped us greatly by your words and example, to feel a part of this wonderful family, here at Mary Help of Christians Academy.

We are grateful for your interest in us, and your patience with us. You deserve the best of everything, and many joys for the future — so, good luck, and may God bless you!

Love,

"YOUR LITTLE SISTERS"

The Class of 1975

---

Dear Seniors,

We, the Class of '74, would like to express our deepest thanks to you for making our first three years at M.H.C. enjoyable. We wish you joy, peace, laughter and success in all your future endeavors.

— Take Time —

|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Take time to think             | It is the source of power.           |
| Take time to play              | It is the secret of perpetual youth. |
| Take time to read              | It is the fountain of wisdom.        |
| Take time to pray              | It is the greatest power on earth.   |
| Take time to love and be loved | It is a God-given privilege.         |
| Take time to be friendly       | It is the road to happiness.         |
| Take time to laugh             | It is the music of the soul.         |
| Take time to give              | It is too short a day to be selfish. |
| Take time to work              | It is the price of success.          |
| Take time to do charity        | It is the key to heaven.             |

Dear Class of '73,

Even though we didn't get to know you too well, to us, you were a fantastic class. You really showed us what Seniors are made of. You're leaving us now, too soon of course, but the green giants are wishing you the best of luck and many happy days to come.

Love,
THE FRESHMEN
